

Representative estimates from heterogeneous studies. Reference standard is clinical attribution, not drug provocation.
Dashed circles = insufficient data. Sensitivity varies by drug, timing, and methodology.